Krišjāņa Barona Street is parallel to Brīvības street and is one of the major and longest streets in Riga Centre area. Kr. Barona Street is famous for many shops and shopping centers located on it. It's named for Krišjānis Barons, who became famous for collecting Latvian folk songs. The street starts from Aspazijas boulevard passes described Radio Street, Merkela Street, and many others until the VEF Bridge, where Kr. Barona Street joins to Brīvības Street. Across the road there is the shopping center Barona Centrs with Rimi grocery shop. Nearby there is a tram stop.
